Dear Partners,

Thank you for your continued investment in Rez Gap Plus, LP. Below is a brief update on market conditions, fund activity, and our outlook for the quarter ahead.

📈 Interest Rates: What We Are Watching

The backdrop: Interest rates remain the leading story in real estate. Higher borrowing costs can slow conventional transactions as fewer buyers qualify.

Why it matters: Over time, that could weigh on transaction volume across the industry.

What we are seeing: Stable deal flow. Funding demand held steady through Q3, and our pipeline remains active.

🧩 Why This Environment Can Favor Our Strategy

Rez Gap Plus, LP is not a traditional lender. Through our lending partner, Real Quick Funds, LLC, the fund provides short-term capital to real estate operators using seller financing, subject-to acquisitions, and double closings. When conventional financing tightens, more deals shift to these structures and demand for our funding grows.

🚀 Quarter-over-Quarter Growth

- ▲ Top-line revenue at our servicing partner, Real Quick Funds, LLC, grew about 48% from Q2 to Q3.
- ▲ Referral income grew more than 140% from Q2 to Q3.

Growing, no-credit-risk referral income further reduces the risk exposure of our underlying loan servicer, Real Quick Funds, LLC.

🔭 Looking Ahead

In Q4, the expanded investment committee will hold its first meeting, and we will keep deploying capital in short-duration, asset-backed loans. Thank you for your partnership.

With gratitude,

Paul M. Brown

🛠️ WHAT WE FUND

Short-term capital for creative structures:

- Seller-financed purchases
- Subject-to acquisitions
- Double closings
- Earnest money deposits
- Transactional funding

💡 DEAL DESK FUN FACT

In a double closing, a property is purchased and resold in back-to-back transactions. Transactional funding finances the first purchase and is repaid from the second.
